THE FATIONAL REPUBLICAN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION THAN ANY OTHER MORNING PAPER IN THE DISTRICT OF CO-

TALK ABOUT April suns and showers as much as you please, but if this kind of nonsense is to be kept up the May flowers will be rather dispeptie.

THE St. Louis Globe says: "The next "President of the United States will be "named in a Republican National Conven-"tion, to be held in the city of Philadel-"phia on the 4th of July, 1876." Correct.

It is understood that Charles A. Dana will drop hereafter the excellent legal counsel he has constantly retained here, and will employ the legal acumen that defended Alonzo Wirtz, the Andersonville butcher. Desperate men need such coun-

Accounts to the Ruleigh Scatters. Person county, North Carolina, will give a majority of 500 votes in favor of the State rights' convention. Coupled with this prediction is the very appropriate announce ment that Person county still adheres to the "whipping-post" for the punishment of crime.

CONGRESSMAN WHEELER has evalted himself by a simple act of true statesmanship in the affections of the American people. His Louisiana compromise having been accepted, peace and quiet may soon follow in that distracted Commonwealth. Now let some political tinker put Mr. Wheeler in nomination for the Presidency.

"The aman's bugle" is just now the subject of much controversy in Ohlo. An enthusiastic young Democrat estimates one blast from it as worth a thousand Democratic votes, whereupon the Ohio State Journal asks whether he will "blow his "bugle in his usual fashion with a silk ban-"danna" It's not improbable that he will.

THE number of emigrants from the Eastern and Southern States to California this spring is so great as to attract general attention. It is agreed, however, that these carpet baggers make a great mistake. California is a large. State and possesses extraordinary resources, but is incapable of accommodating such an unexpected and unusual influx of fortune-hunters. The result will be personal disappointment, personal suffering, and finally a diversion of the tide of emigration either to Washington Territory or Oregon.

Is our neighbor of the Sentinel wants | costly edifices and their furniture, ostensibly credit for his law he must not vary so far from the truth in his allegations of fact. "THEY" are talking of Senator Ransom. of North Carolina, as a possible Democratic candidate for President in 1876. This will never do. He is altogether too conservative to suit the extreme demands of the Democracy. If all of the Democratic leaders were as moderate as he has proven himself to be, there would be less suspicion that his party is covertly engaged in reestablishing the State rights treachery which was the cause of the war. He is, in fact, a consistent Union man, and is there fore to be counted out when Democratic promotions are to be distributed.

Tur. probability that Carruth, the Vineland editor, who was shot in the head by Landis will recover suggests to the New York Gra; he that "persons who fancy themselves insulted by editors will form "the habit of shooting them in the head " with a calm confidence that the shot will "not prove fatel, and that the shooter can "only be punished for assault and battery, "Carruth is thus establishing a very bad " precedent by persisting in living. If the people once find out that a few ounces of 'extraneous lead forced into the cranium "of an editor of a scurrilous paper do not " endanger his life there will be an imme-"diate rise in the price of pistols, and a brisk season for editor-shooting will at "once open."

PROGRESS AND RELIGION. It is thought by many somewhat remark able that the march of progress which is universally recognized in all other features of our modern civilization should receive such tardy acknowledgment by the minis ters of religion. Educating the people in all secular affairs has been revolutionized by the discovery of the art of printing. Books and newspapers have taken the places of schools and colleges and preceptors and tutors to an uncommon degree. An education is coming to be considered or comparatively small impertance unless enforced by practical illustrations. Conse quently we find, as a rule, that self edu cated men are the best and most thoroughly educated, because that once commenced i is never completed. The practical man can see nothing transpiring about him from which he is unable to gain information. Everything he reads is illustrated or enforced by something which he sees in his daily avocations. And this something is perhaps that which a mere book-worm would never see at all. The man who reads his newspaper each morning with care in his breakfast-room, with a globe before him or a map of the world on the wall to consult upon geographical and com mercial questions, and a dictionary, encyclopedia and gazeteerat hand to determine doubtful questions of signification, goes forth into the world a posted individual, fully acquainted with its progress up to the present hour. Does any one pretend to say that this is not a better means of infor mation than going to some college or university and spending three or four years in studying up what happened in these same places two or three centuries ago?

When we consider how few of our foremost men of the present age and generation are University men, it should admonish us to look to the fundamental principles of education, and call a halt in our manificent bequests and expenditures in grand college and university school buildings, until we see whether we are not in them erecting monuments to on, own folly. Perhaps we shall determine that they be long to a past age; that they are 30 34, "an tage to the present, but rather a hindrance and a clog. Take a university-bred man, and turn him loose with M's own subsistthe antiquated foolishness which Delongs to flat course in order to get fairly started upon the modern read. His only chance the situation, this venomous old remnant of a is to get a situation as a teacher or a class of the worst enemies the South ever had, continues to fight the battles of the rebellion preacher, at a stated salary, regardless of real merits. These situations, through the columns of his obscure journal. The President needs no defense from any such as we all know, are too often The President needs no defense from any such attacks. But we do wish to defend the South against the malign influence of such men as this. They do us absolute harm. They are our worst enemies. They would see our fields laid waste, our cities, towns and villages in flames, and our young men weltering in their own gove, to gratify their own infernal ambiawarded through influence of friends regardless of merit or competency. How lew of the men who now fill these postions throughout this country and E rrope would occury them a month if that event own gore, to gratify their own infernal ambidepended upon their ability to make the The vile falsehoods of Hill published against Grant, and the infamous spirit which pervades his whole being and finds utterance same amount of money which they now receive at any other sort of labor of a pracin everything he says and writes, does North Carolina and the South an injury which we cannot afford to sustain. Those whom such men profess to befriend are the victims of their tical character, either mental or physical. They are not to be blamed for their lack of knowledge in matters of every-day life, improdence, and really have more to fear from perhaps, for how could they ever have acthem than their avowed enemies. quired it cooped up between the four walls of a study? But it is the fault of our system of education. Men and boys who are not naturally over bright are sent to school at an early age, to be manufactured into teachers or preachers, because it is evident that they will never be able to fight the battle of life in the field of labor with any chance of success. Once in the ministry or educational service, however, the religious community and friends of progress will feel bound to take care of them. The result of all this is that only about one per cent, of the clergy and teachers of this whole country are really men of mark-of the people with whom they associate.

How few of them are there who, indepea-dently of their surroundings, of the rever-

It is true that public men are public prop-some extent. Clergymen are not excluded from this rule. During Dr. Newman's who has no opportunity to defend himself, and particularly when, from the very na-account, the assailed party is almost posi-

Our own State has made arrangements, and very properly, as we thought, to participate in this celebration. It is an occasion which dould arouse patriotic emotions, and upon which everything like hatred, sectional strife and partisan bigotry should be forgotten.

Some of the people who have the arrangements in charge for this occasion thought so too. They desired it to be of such a character that men from all sections of the Union, with out regard to party affiliations, might partici

The Third Term-

(From the Philadelphia Buttetin.) Vice President Wilson is reported to have said that he does not know a man in Massachusetts who is in favor of electing President Grant for a third term. He might have gone a little further and said that he never met an intelligent man who really believed that the President wants a third term or would accept it if it were offered to him. We defy the journais that are harping upon this subject to produce one word or the record of one action, on the part of President Grant or of any one properly authorized to represent him, which indicates in the slightest degree that he has such aspirations. If any of these loud talkers have possession of any such evidence, let them produce it now or shut up.
